INTRODUCTION

On September 11, 2001, thousands of innocent men, women, and children, in New York City, at the Pentagon, and aboard four airliners were horribly murdered – burned, suffocated, crushed, impact, and otherwise - as a result of an invidious criminal conspiracy targeting American lives and property. They suffered pain and suffering. They died. They lost the opportunity to see their children and their grandchildren. They were deprived of the chance to grow old with their spouses. They lost their property and their livelihoods. Thousands of others – their spouses, children, parents and other loved ones - had their lives irreparably shattered.

This lawsuit seeks to utilize the American system of justice to seek to partially recompense for this tragedy and to help prevent other families from suffering similar terrible losses.

This is what the O'Neill cases¹² are all about.

¹ The First Consolidated Complaint electronically served and then filed with the Clerk on September 30, 2005, will be cited as “FCC.”

² The instant case, Estate of John P. O'Neill, et. al. v. Republic of Iraq, et al., 04 CV 1076 (RCC) (Iraq or O'Neill-Iraq) is one of the cases which are part of In re Terrorist Attacks on September 11, 2001, 03 MDL 1570 (RCC) (collectively O'Neill cases or O'Neill Litigation). The decedent, John P. O'Neill, Sr., was murdered on September 11, 2001 as a result of the activities committed by the Defendant named herein, and those named in the companion cases of Estate of John P. O'Neill, Sr., et al. v. Al Baraka Inv. & Dev. Corp., et al., 04-CV- 1923 (RCC) (“Al Baraka”) and Estate of John P. O'Neill, et al. v. Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, et al., 04-CV-1922 (RCC), as well as the other cases part of the instant multi-district litigation, as alleged in the pleadings. See, e.g., FCC Exhibit G, ¶ 2.

Defendant Dr. Taha Al-Alwani,³ who was personally served in this action in the State of Virginia on July 29, 2005 filed his Motion to Dismiss, ninety-eight (98) days later, on November 4, 2005, and served its proposed Rule 11 Motion upon counsel, on November 11, 2005, essentially complaining, notwithstanding that he is already appearing in two (2) other cases in the same multi-district litigation, that the wrong person was served, and seeking to dismiss the complaint, on that ground, based upon a purported insufficiency of pleading, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(6), rather than by way of a putative summary judgment motion or by a determination by a jury. He further complains, notwithstanding his unexcused failure to timely respond to the complaint for approximately 98 days,⁴⁵ in contravention of Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(a) which requires responses within twenty (20) days⁶ that the Plaintiffs failed to properly comport with this Court's rules relative to timing and/or format of the RICO Statements, More Definite Statements and the tendering of Consolidated Complaint.

He is utilizing the wrong procedure to challenge this purported 'wrong.'

The complaint is sufficiently pled in accordance with the requirements of Rule 8(a).

He is the Dr. Taha Al-Alwani who the Plaintiffs' allege is liable for the horrendous events of September 11, 2001.

³ The Defendant was served with the Summons and Complaint, Docket no. 1145, July 29, 2005. A RICO Statement and a More Definite Statement was filed on August 26, 2005. Docket 1157 and 1158. Plaintiff incorporated the allegations of the RICO Statement within a More Definite Statement- Additional Allegations, on September 30, 2005, docket no. 1360, and then attached the same allegations as set forth in those pleadings, as Exhibit G, ("Exhibit G" or "MDS") , to the First Consolidated Complaint, pursuant FCC para. 220(g), which was filed and served by email on September 30, 2005 pursuant to CMO 2, ¶¶ 13, 14.

⁴ Notably, the Defendant had previously filed a motion to dismiss relative to the claim of Federal Insurance and, in fact, a week before he filed the instant motion, he was part of a consolidated motion to dismiss aimed at the complaint filed by New York Marine. Docket 1450. In neither case has a Rule 11 motion been threatened, let alone tendered.

The Plaintiffs are further seeking, by way their cross motion, to:

1. Relative to the Plaintiffs' RICO Statement pertaining to Taha Al' Alwani:
 - a. Reconsidering the Court's Order relative to the Applicability of CMO 2, Par. 14 to Plaintiffs other than Federal Insurance; or, in the alternative,
 - b. Granting an Enlargement of Time pursuant to Rule 6(b) to Filing of a RICO Statement as to Taha Al' Alwani; or, in the alternative,
 - c. Allowing Plaintiff to Withdraw its Previously Filed RICO Statement; and/or
2. Striking Defendant Taha Al' Alwani's Motion to Dismiss⁷;
3. Granting Leave to Amend the Plaintiffs' Complaint as Set Forth in Exhibit A;
4. Granting Leave to Amend the Plaintiffs' Complaint in the Event that the Court finds a Deficiency in Pleading under Rule 12(b)(6).

In support of the Plaintiffs' Response to Defendant's Motion and in Support of the Plaintiffs' Cross motion are Declarations of Jerry S. Goldman, Esquire (hereinafter "Goldman, para." __ or "Goldman Exhibit __"); Gina M. MacNeill, Esquire (hereinafter "MacNeill, para. __" or "MacNeill Exhibit __"); and Joshua M. Ambush, Esquire (hereinafter "Ambush, para. __"), all of which, including their attached exhibits, and the pleadings, are incorporated herein.

FACTS

The Defendant are alleged to have participated in a world-wide conspiracy which culminated, for purposes of this case, in the attacks of September 11, 2001, causing massive death and destruction in New York, Pennsylvania, and the Washington, D.C. area. To seek monetary compensation for the wrongs committed by the conspirators, in the form of actual and punitive damages, the O'Neill Plaintiffs have brought this action in a United States Court.

The horrific events of September 11th were the result of a world-wide terror conspiracy against the United States involving the Defendant and others, who have conspired for many years to attack the United States, to destroy American property, and murder innocent United States' citizens. Defendants supported, conspired, aided and abetted, sponsored, planned and executed the September 11th terror attacks that killed thousands of people and injured many thousands more. FCC 1; see generally summary of O'Neill pleadings contained in Appendix 1, para. 1-33, 50-61.⁸

In essence, as described at length in the pleadings, and discussed in part, below, the Defendant conspired with Osama Bin Laden ("Bin Laden"), Al Qaeda, foreign states, and others to raise, launder, transfer, distribute, and hide funds for Bin Laden and the rest of the Enterprise in order to support and finance their terrorist activities including, but not limited to, the September 11th attacks. FCC paras. 22, 23, 25, 36, 41; see generally, FCC, Exhibit G.

The Defendants, including the Defendant herein, concert of action and conspiracy to support and promote Bin Laden and Al Qaeda were a proximate cause of the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks that killed and injured the Plaintiffs, and damaged and/or destroyed their property. See, e.g., FCC 253, 272, 275. As a result, Plaintiffs have suffered damages as set forth in the pleadings. FCC 270-272, FCC Exhibit G paras. 14-5; see generally outline in Appendix I, paras. 62-9.⁹

⁹ The injuries to business or property suffered by the O'Neill Plaintiffs, resulting from the September 11th attack, include economic damages, including but not limited, to pecuniary losses, past and future wage losses and profits, loss of business opportunities, loss of and/or damage to tangible and intangible personal property, loss of currency, loss of support, funeral and burial expenses, loss of prospective inheritance, and loss of other economic

During the summer of 2003, Joshua Ambush, Esquire drafted the original complaint in the above-referenced matter. Ambush Para. 3. He then caused to be filed, before the United States District Court of the District of Columbia, the complaint in the O'Neill-Iraq matter, on or about August 20, 2003. Such complaint listed, as a Defendant, one Taha Al-Alwani, who Mr. Ambush intended to be an individual, who he then believed was living in northern Virginia, and who he understood was born in Iraq. Ambush para. 4, 6. He had no knowledge, at that time, nor does he today, of any other individual, by the name of Taha Al-Alwani, who had connection with the 9/11 conspiracy, including the person referenced in the Defendant's motion. Ambush Para. 7. The person served on July 29, 2005, and who had appeared in the Federal and New York Marine cases, was the person who he included in the Complaint. Dr. Al-Alwani was in the Iraq case from the very beginning of the litigation.

The Defendant herein is named in at least two (2) other of the related cases - the Federal case and the New York Marine case.

By way of an order signed on or about December 9, 2003 the MDL panel ordered the transfer of the instant case from the District of Columbia to the Southern District of New York, which is listed on the docket on December 10, and entered in January 8, 2004. Ambush Para. 10.

The docket in the Southern District of New York reflects that the case was finally transferred into the Southern District of New York on March 11, 2004. Ambush Para. 11.

At the time that the case was transferred in, all matters were stayed in the case, pending the discussions relative to and the entry of a Case Management Order, which was filed on June 16, 2004. Ambush Para. 12.

contributions to the Plaintiffs'/Decedents' households. Additionally, the Attack itself was intended to destroy the leading symbol of the United States leader in world trade – The World Trade Center - and as such, affected the O'Neill Plaintiffs' jobs, businesses, and livelihoods. Exhibit G, ¶¶ 15, 16.

On October 14, 2004, the O'Neill Plaintiffs sought to have counsel for the Defendant in the companion Federal case accept service. They refused. MacNeill Para. 4. Thereafter, a waiver of service was unsuccessfully sought. O'Neill MacNeill Paras. 5, 6.

On July 29, 2005, in the Virginia, the Defendant was personally served. MacNeill, Exhibit D.¹⁰

On August 10, 2005, counsel for the Defendant requested an extension of time to plead or move under Rule 12(a). On August 11, 2005 a draft was tendered by Plaintiffs. Plaintiff, in accordance with the practice in the great majority of the cases in the instant litigation involving stipulations, requested, in exchange, a waiver of a service defense (in light of the personal service) and that the time for the filing of a RICO Statement, pursuant to CMO 2, Para. 14, be set. Defendant refused on August 11, 2005. Thereafter, Plaintiffs offered to withdraw their request for a waiver of a service defense. Defendant adamantly refused to change its position relative to the RICO Statement, insisting that the Plaintiffs were not timely as it was not filed within twenty (20) days of the filing of the pleading, in accordance with the Judge's Individual Rules, notwithstanding the fact that twenty (20) days after the filing of the pleading, the case was still pending in the District of Columbia. In fact, the case did not arrive in this court for almost seven (7) months. That is, the Plaintiffs could not have complied with such rule, let alone be aware of the existence of this Court's individual rules. Moreover, during the period of time from when the case arrived in the District in mid-March until mid-June, 2005, the discussions and the Court's decision over the scope of the Case Management Order were pending, and, it appears that all such procedural steps (e.g., the plaintiffs filing of RICO Statements, the defendants responding to the various complaints, the plaintiffs responding to the defense motions, etc. were stayed).]

Following discussions with counsel for the Defendant,¹¹ it was apparent that they would not yield as to the issue of the filing of a RICO Statement, notwithstanding their requests for extensions of time to file their own response, despite the unequivocal mandate of Rule 12.

On August 26, 2005, docket no. 1157, Plaintiff electronically filed and served a RICO Statement Applicable to Taha Al' Alwani.¹² On that same date, the Plaintiffs also filed a More Definite Statement- Additional Allegations applicable to the same Defendant. Docket 1158.

On September 30, 2005, docket no. 1360, Plaintiff electronically filed and served a More Definite Statement- Additional Allegations, pursuant to CMO 2, Para. 13 pertaining to the Defendant. Such document contained substantially the same information as was previously disclosed in docket nos. 1157 and 1158.

On September 30, 2005, Plaintiff manually filed and electronically served on counsel its First Consolidated Complaint in the instant matter, in accordance with CMO 2, Para. 13 (last sentence). Incorporated within such Complaint were numerous allegations against the Defendant, as reflected, in part in the More Definite Statement- Additional Allegations of September 30, 2006, docket 1360. See, FCC Para. 220 (g), Exhibit G.

On November 4, 2005, Defendant filed the instant motion. Defendant never sought leave from the Court to file same pursuant to Rule 6(b). On November 11, 2005, he served, but did not file, a proposed Rule 11 Motion. On November 18, 2005, the Plaintiffs filed the instant response to the Defendant's motion and the instant cross motion.

¹² The Plaintiff is withdrawing the RICO Statement of August, 2005, but by way of the cross motion, is seeking leave to file same, by for good cause. Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 6(b). It is not withdrawing either its More Definite Statement- Additional allegations of August 2005, its More Definite Statement – Additional Allegations of September 30, 2005, or its First Consolidated Complaint of September 30, 2005.

ARGUMENT

I. THE COMPLAINT SHOULD NOT BE DISMISSED FOR FAILURE TO STATE A CLAIM UPON WHICH RELIEF CAN BE GRANTED.

Plaintiffs have sufficiently alleged claims under the ATA ("ATA") (Count 8), RICO (Count 9) and the common law.¹³ These claims should not be dismissed.

A. A MOTION TO DISMISS UNDER RULE 12(B)(6) MERELY TESTS THE LEGAL FEASIBILITY OF THE COMPLAINT.

Defendant moves to dismiss the Complaint pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 12(b)(6), for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted. Such a motion must be denied unless "it appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts in support of his claim which would entitle him to relief." Conley v. Gibson, 355 U.S. 41, 45-46 (1957); Wynder v. McMahon, 360 F.3d 73, 78 n.8 (2d Cir. 2004); Phelps v. Kapnolas, 308 F.3d 180, 184 (2d Cir. 2002) (per curiam). The Court's role is "not to assay the weight of the evidence which might be offered in support" of the Complaint, but "merely to assess the legal feasibility" of the Complaint. Geisler v. Petrocelli, 616 F.2d 636, 639 (2d Cir. 1980). Plaintiffs are not required to prove their case at the pleading stage; indeed, the Second Circuit has cautioned that "[t]he pleading of evidence should be avoided." Woodford v. Community Action Agency, 239 F.3d 517 (2d Cir. 2001). The issue on Rule 12(b)(6) motion "is not whether a plaintiff is likely to likely to prevail ultimately, but whether the claimant is entitled to offer evidence to support the claims.” Hance v. Armstrong, 143 F.3d 698, 701 (2d Cir. 1998), aff’d. on appeal after remand, 159 F.3d 1345 (2d Cir. 1998).

In determining whether Plaintiffs could ultimately prevail, the Court must accept as true the facts alleged in the pleadings and draw all reasonable inferences in Plaintiffs’ favor. Wynder, 360 F.3d at 78; Phelps, 308 F.3d at 184. Plaintiffs are not required to prove their case at the pleading stage. Indeed, the Second Circuit has cautioned that “[t]he pleading of evidence should be avoided.” Woodford v. Community Action Agency, 239 F.3d 517, 526 (2d Cir. 2001). The issue in a Rule 12(b)(6) motion “is not whether a plaintiff is likely to prevail ultimately, but whether the claimant is entitled to offer evidence to support the claims.” Chance v. Armstrong, 143 F.3d 698, 701 (2d Cir. 1998), aff’d. on appeal after remand, 159 F.3d 1345 (2d Cir. 1998).

A Rule 12(b)(6) motion is analyzed in the context of the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 8(a), which are extremely permissive. Swierkiewicz, 534 U.S. at 512-13 (2002) . Indeed, Rule 8(a)(2) provides that a complaint only need include “a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief” and that such a statement simply shall “give the Defendant fair notice of what the plaintiffs claim is and the grounds upon which it rests.” Id. at 512 (quoting Conley, 355 U.S. at 47 (1957)); Wynder, 360 F.3d at 77; see also Sparrow v. United Airlines, Inc., 216 F.3d 1111, 1115 (D.C. Cir. 2000), appeal dismissed after remand, 2001 WL 936257 (D.C. Cir. July 12, 2001) (allegation “I was turned down for a job because of my race” would be sufficient to survive a Rule 12(b)(6) motion.). Furthermore, in the absence of averments of fraud or mistake, which must be pled with particularity pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 9(b), a federal court is prohibited from imposing more demanding requirements than those proscribed under Rule 8(a). Leatherman, 507 U.S. at 168-69 (1993); Twombly v. Bell Atlantic Corp., 425 F.3d 99, 106-7 (2d Cir. 2005).

Several recent Second Circuit cases underscore and re-affirm these cardinal principles.

In Phelps, the Court of Appeals held that a district court “may not go beyond FRCP 8(a)(2) to require the plaintiff to supplement his pleadings with additional facts that support his allegation of knowledge either directly or by inference.” Id. at 186-87.¹⁴ The Court explained that dismissal was improper because, through discovery, the plaintiff might uncover direct evidence to support his allegations. Phelps, 308 F.3d at 187. Thus, the Second Circuit cautioned:

Despite the pressures to weed out apparently meritless cases at the earliest point, courts must take care lest judicial haste in dismissing a complaint in the long run makes waste. Untimely dismissal may prove wasteful of the court's limited resources rather than expeditious, for it often leads to a shuttling of the lawsuit between the district and appellate courts. Id. at 185 (citations omitted).

In Pelman v. McDonald's Corp., 396 F.3d 508 (2d Cir. 2005), the Second Circuit again vacated a district court's 12(b)(6) dismissal and reiterated the minimal pleading standards to be applied.¹⁵ Quoting the unanimous Supreme Court ruling in Swierkiewiez, the Court reminded:

This simplified notice pleading standard of Rule 8(a) relies on liberal discovery rules and summary judgment motions to define disputed facts and issues and to dispose of unmeritorious claims. The provisions for discovery are so flexible and the provisions for pretrial procedure and summary judgment so effective, that attempted surprise in federal practice is aborted very easily, synthetic issues

¹⁴ In Phelps, the plaintiff alleged that the employees of the prison where he was incarcerated had violated his Eighth and Fourteenth Amendment rights by inflicting cruel and unusual punishment. 308 F.3d at 182. Plaintiff further alleged that Defendants “knew or recklessly disregarded” that the diet the Defendants had placed him on was inadequate and would cause pain and suffering. Id. The district court dismissed the complaint, finding that it failed to state a claim, in part because the court said plaintiff had not sufficiently alleged that Defendants acted with the requisite scienter, deliberate indifference. The district court found plaintiff's allegations of scienter conclusory and held that plaintiff failed to allege facts from which the Court could infer the Defendants' knowledge. Id. at 184.

The Court explained:

It was improper to dismiss Phelps's Amended Complaint for failing to supplement Phelps's basic allegations with additional facts to support them by inference, for it does not appear from the face of the complaint beyond doubt that Phelps “can prove no set of facts in support of his claim which would entitle him to relief.” Phelps, 308 F.3d at 187 (quoting Conley, 355 U.S. at 45-46).

detected, and the gravamen of the dispute brought frankly into the open for the inspection of the court.

Pelman, 396 F.3d at 512 (quoting Swierkiewicz, 534 U.S. at 512-13).

Again, last month, the Circuit reiterated that Rule 8(a) requires only (i) a short and plain statement of the grounds of the court's jurisdiction; (ii) a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief; and (iii) a demand for judgment for the relief which the pleader seeks. Twombly v. Bell Atlantic Corp., 425 F.3d 99, 106-7 (2d Cir. 2005). All that is required is that the pleading provide a Defendant with "fair notice" of the claim and the grounds upon which it rests; it is not meant to impose a great burden upon the plaintiff, or require the pleading of facts except in exceptional circumstances. Twombly, 425 F. 3d at 106-7. Moreover, the requirement of a heightened pleading standard is narrowly circumscribed to averments of fraud and mistake only, Twombly, 425 F. 3d at 107-113 (more specified pleadings are not required in anti-trust cases); Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 9(b).^{16,17}

¹⁷ Notably, in Linde, et al. v. Arab Bank, PLC, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 18864 (E.D. N.Y. September 2, 2005), the District Court rejected the Defendant's invitation to impose a heightened pleading requirement in a case presenting claims nearly identical to those at issue here. In Linde, the plaintiffs brought claims against Arab Bank for injuries resulting from terrorist attacks carried out by HAMAS and Palestine Islamic Jihad in Israel, based on the bank's sponsorship and support of those terrorist organizations. Id. at *11-23. Arab Bank sought dismissal of the plaintiffs' Anti-Terrorism Act (ATA) and common-law claims "on the ground that plaintiffs have not sufficiently alleged knowledge and intent." Id. at *42. The Court rejected this argument, reasoning that Arab Bank was attempting to impose a heightened pleading standard not warranted by the Rules of Civil Procedure:

To the extent the Defendant is arguing that plaintiffs have not alleged sufficient facts to establish an evidentiary basis for their allegations of knowledge and intent, Defendant simply misapprehends the pleading standard. It is not entitled to dismissal based on the argument that plaintiff's must plead more than the requisite knowledge and intent, either as to their substantive claims or their claims of aiding and abetting a conspiracy.

Id. The Linde court likewise rejected the Defendant's contention that plaintiffs were required to allege that senior officials of the bank were aware of the misconduct underlying plaintiffs' claims. "Once again, Defendant attempts to impose a standard of pleading beyond that required by the rules. It is sufficient, for pleading purposes, for plaintiffs to allege the knowledge and intent of Arab Bank and not spell out their proof." Id. at *50.

Defendant does not, and can not, claim that it did not receive fair notice. Defendant clearly knows what has been alleged. Because the pleadings provide fair notice, there is no basis for a dismissal at this time.

B. DEFENDANT CONTENTION THAT THE WRONG PERSON WAS SERVED CAN NOT BE PROPERLY RAISED BY A MOTION TO DISMISS THE COMPLAINT UNDER FED. R. CIV. PROC. 12(B)(6); IN ANY EVENT THE CORRECT PERSON IS PROPERLY BEFORE THE COURT AS SET FORTH IN THE PLAINTIFFS' PLEADINGS.

A key contention in Defendant's motion is a claim that the wrong person was served in the O'Neill case, notwithstanding the fact that he was served, appeared and has defended in two other cases in the same multi-district litigation, namely Federal (see, docket no. 290), and New York Marine (see, docket no. 1540).

First, as a 12(b)(6) motion tests the sufficiency of the pleadings, on its face, with all of its allegations presumed to be true for purposes of such examination, a motion to dismiss for insufficiency of pleading is not a proper vehicle. Rather, summary judgment or a decision at the trial stage would be the only appropriate vehicles, and not an attack on the sufficiency of the pleadings.

Second, as indicated in the declaration of Joshua Ambush, Esquire, from the time of the very preparation and filing of the original complaint in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in the summer of 2003, the person who was, in fact, served, was the person who was sued. Ambush Paras. 6, 7. When the undersigned became counsel in the O'Neill-Iraq litigation in the fall of 2004, attempts at service were directed towards this particular person. MacNeill Paras. 3, 5, 6, 7, 8. It was not until the Defendant's counsel, by way of their letter dated October 25, 2004, brought it to Plaintiffs' attention, were the O'Neill Plaintiff's even aware of another Taha Al Alawni. See, MacNeill Exhibit A.

The Defendant alleges that the Plaintiff's have confused him with "Taha Badwi Hamid Al-Alwani or another Iraqi national," yet, the pleadings on their face, specifically refer to "Taha Al Alwani a/k/a Dr. Taha Jabir al'Alwani" (FCC para. 36; Exhibit G per para. 220).¹⁸ The addition of the 'a/k/a' was in the pleading filed September 28, 2004, prior to any attempted service on the Defendant or his counsel.^{19,20}

The Complaint describes the Defendant as a "Dr."

The Defendant's Declaration, Exhibit A to the Barentzen Declaration refers to him as a "Dr. Taha Jabir Al-Alwani".

Defendant further alleges, in both his instant motion and his proposed Rule 11 motion, that the allegation in FCC para. 36, linking him to Iraq, may be incorrect, claiming he was never a "leader, official, agent, or employee" of Iraq, and that he left the country in 1969 and has never returned, having moved to the United States in 1984. By way of our cross-motion, in accordance with Rule 11 and Rule 15(a) and CMO 2, para. 13, we are seeking to amend same, without prejudice, in the interest of justice, as set forth, in full, at Appendix II, which is attached hereto and incorporated herein.²¹ It is incontrovertible that he is, as pled, a “natural person” of Iraq, and our allegation is that he participated in the “acts and conspiracy described below,” that is, in the Complaint.

²⁰ The individual who the Defendant claims the Plaintiffs' intended to sue, has a different name (Taha Bdewi Hamid Al Alwani) and apparently does not have a doctorate. See, e.g., Goldman Exhibit E. He apparently became mayor of Fallujah after the United States military action in that country, and there is no evidence of his participation in the conspiracy, as charged, provided by either the Defendant nor his counsel. See, e.g., Goldman Exhibits E, F. What his position was on or before September 11, 2001, is unknown to Plaintiffs.

In his declaration, Defendant admits being born in Iraq, that is, as a matter of nationality, or national origin, he is a ‘natural person’ of Iraq (i.e., an Iraqi), and there are numerous references, to his nationality on the web, including biographical information presumably provided by the Defendant him in connection with his participation at the World Economic Forum (WEF) of Davos, Switzerland, and the organization which he purportedly runs. Goldman Para. 3; see e.g., Goldman Exhibits A-C. While the Defendant alleges that he is a naturalized United States citizen, claiming to have moved permanently to the United States in 1984, he never alleges that he renounced his Iraqi citizenship. Curiously, in none of his own published biographical information, where he portrays his Iraqi nationality, does he represent his United States citizenship, or even his residency. See Goldman Exhibits A-D.

As to employment, on information and belief, at least at one point in time, the Defendant was an employee of Iraq. See Goldman, Exhibit B, a biographical sketch from the Word Economic Forum, copyrighted 2003 and last updated December 5, 2004, wherein it indicates that from 1963-9, he was a Lecturer of Islamic Studies, “Military Academy, Baghdad, Iraq” (and was also a lecturer at the Islamic College in Baghdad (1965-6). Thereafter he was a ‘founder-member’ of the Council of the Muslim World League, another Defendant in the O'Neill

In the particular circumstances of this extraordinarily complex case, at the present stage where discovery has not even commenced, and where this particular individual is already named in and defending two related case, the exceptions to the rule of liberal amendments (undue delay, bad faith or dilatory motive on the part of the movant, repeated failure to cure deficiencies by amendments previously allowed, undue prejudice to the opposing party, and futility of the amendment) can not apply to the extremely limited amendments proposed.. We are withdrawing, however, by way of the proposed amendment, the allegation that, the participation in the conspiracy was necessarily part of the ‘course and scope of’ his employment. Fed. R. Civ. C. THE PLAINTIFFS PROPERLY FILED THEIR MORE DEFINITE STATEMENT AND FIRST CONSOLIDATED COMPLAINT.

Defendant further contends that the Plaintiff’s RICO Statement and More Definite Statement- Additional Allegations of August 26, 2005 (docket 1157, (“RICO Statement”) and docket 1158 (“More Definite Statement”)), their More Definite Statement-Additional Allegations of September 30, 2005 (Docket 1360), and their First Consolidated Complaint of September 30, 2005, should be disregarded in connection with the determination of the instant motion, because inter alia, they allegedly were not timely filed (RICO Statement, docket 1157), they were not allegedly a proper pleading because a More Definite Statement was not demanded by the Defendant (More Definite Statement), and that allegedly the First Consolidated Complaint did not comport with the Case Management Order.

²³ In Mr. Al Alwani’s declaration he declares, under penalty of perjury, that he was never an employee of the Iraq government. Alwani para. 4.

²⁴ We are also proposing to add some ‘and/ors’. A copy of the proposed amendment to Paragraph 36, as well as the existing Paragraph 36, is set forth in Appendix II, attached hereto and incorporated herein.

The Plaintiffs respectfully suggest that they are wrong. Alternatively, Plaintiffs request, by way of the instant cross motion, a) reconsideration of the Court's determination of August 22, 2005, docket 1144, relative to the late filing of a RICO Statement and the applicability of CMO 2, para. 14; b) leave under Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 6(b) file a RICO Statement, and c) to strike the Defendant's instant motion as untimely.

1. RICO Statement of August 26, 2005.

Following the personal service on the Defendant, in then reliance upon its consistent interpretation of CMO 2, Par. 13, Plaintiff's prepared and then filed, on August 26, 2005, both a RICO Statement, docket 1157, and a More Definite Statement – Additional Allegations, docket 1158, relative to the Defendant.

This Court, however, entered an order, on August 22, 2005, docket 1157, apparently treating all Plaintiffs other than Federal differently.²⁵ CMO 2, Para. 13, provides that rather than forcing Plaintiffs to prepare detailed allegations as to hundreds of Defendants and file the RICO Statements prior to determining, in an orderly fashion, which Defendants, in fact, would be participating in the litigation,²⁶ the RICO Statements were to be filed within the later of thirty (30) days after the entry of the order²⁷ adopting the Case Management Order or thirty (30) days

²⁵ In February, 2005, counsel for Cantor-Port Authority sought a clarification by the Court pertaining to CMO 2, para. 13, as to its applicability to Plaintiffs other than Federal. Peter Kahan, Esquire, by way of a letter addressed to the Court dated July 18, 2005, in response and on behalf solely of his client, to a letter submitted by Sean Carter, Esquire, dated July 15, 2005, on behalf of all of the Plaintiffs, seeking an extension of the then July 31, 2005 amendment as of right deadline, raised the issue of the RICO Statements applicability to other defendants apparently for the first time. This particular issue was responded to, on behalf of the Plaintiffs, by Jerry S. Goldman, Esquire, by way of a letter dated July 19, 2005. Mr. Kahn submitted another communication dated August 8, 2005, which was responded to by Mr. Goldman on August 9, 2005.

after the filing of an entry of appearance by counsel in that particular action.²⁸ It also provided, consistent with the case law that the RICO Statement would be deemed an amendment to the Complaint. See, e.g., McLaughlin v. Anderson, 962 F. 2d 187, 195 (2d Cir. 1992); Moses v. Martin, 360 F. Supp. 2d 533, 539 n. 22 (S.D.N.Y. 2004); Allen v. New World Coffee, Inc., 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3269, n. 3 (S.D.N.Y. 2001); Dempsey v. Sanders, 132 F. Supp. 2d 222, 224 (S.D.N.Y. 2001); Mega Tech Int'l. Corp. v. Al-Saghayir Establishment, 1999 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6381 (S.D.N.Y. 1999); A. Terzi Prods. V. Theatrical Protective Union, Local No. One, 2 F. Supp. 2d 485, 509, n. 16 (S.D.N.Y. 1998).

Accordingly, the instant filing as to this particular Defendant may not have been timely. Plaintiff's are respectfully requesting that this Court reconsider its decision in this regard (and as set forth in the Plaintiffs' proposal in the pending CMO 4).²⁹ Plaintiffs' believe that such a determination as to the 'timing' is unduly prejudicial to the Plaintiffs; pose an horribly excessive and unnecessary burden on the Plaintiffs in light of the notice pleading requirements and due to the fact that it is not known, after the filing of the pleadings in this case as to who among the hundreds of defendants in this complex case would appear to defend; is inappropriate in a case such as this, consolidated under the Multi-District Litigation rules, to treat one Plaintiff differently than the others; and, is contrary to the generally uniform interpretation of the CMO 2, para. 14, as utilized and relied upon by various other plaintiffs and defendants as reflected in the court approved stipulations for over a fourteen (14) month period of time. Moreover, the O'Neill plaintiffs could not have complied with the Court's individual rules if it wanted to.³⁰ This case was filed in August, 2003, in the District of Columbia and was not placed upon this Court's docket until March, 2004. That is, upon being placed on the docket, it was already in 'default' of the Individual Rule's requirement to file a RICO Statement within twenty (20) days of the filing of a pleading. Moreover, all filings were being stayed during the pendency of the discussions over CMO 2. Plaintiffs request reconsideration of the August ruling in light of same.

²⁹ In the recent submissions pertaining to CMO 4, this issue was raised by the Plaintiffs and responded to by the Defendants.

Alternatively, as the Plaintiffs have demonstrated good cause, leave is sought to file a RICO Statement, if the Court deems it necessary, pursuant to Rule 6(b).³¹

Should this Court deny both of those requests, the Plaintiffs are withdrawing the filing RICO Statement only of August, 2005, and with regard to the RICO Count, will rely solely upon the allegations contained in the September 30, 2005 filings. Such action would not preclude the pursuit of the RICO claim by the plaintiffs. The Second Circuit has taught us that a RICO Statement is, at best, a case management tool, and can not be utilized to enhance the notice pleadings under Rule 8. Commer. Cleaning Servs., L.L.C. v. Colin Serv. Sys., 271 F. 3d 374, 387 (2d Cir. 2001); Wagh v. Metris Direct, Inc., 348 F. 3d 1101, 1107-1109 (9th Cir. 2003), cert. denied, 541 U.S. 1043 (2004); Mendoza v. Zirkle Fruit Co., 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21126 (D. Wash. 2000).

As to the contention that the matters contained within the RICO Statement/More Definite Statement are not part of the Pleadings, we suggest that irregardless of this Court's determination as to the applicability of CMO 2, Para. 14 to the O'Neill litigation, they are to be treated as pleadings. There is uniform judicial precedent that RICO Statements are part of pleadings. McLaughlin v. Anderson, 962 F. 2d 187, 195 (2d Cir. 1992); Moses v. Martin, 360 F. Supp. 2d 533, 539 n. 22 (S.D.N.Y. 2004); Allen v. New World Coffee, Inc., 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3269, n. 3 (S.D.N.Y. 2001); Dempsey v. Sanders, 132 F. Supp. 2d 222, 224 (S.D.N.Y. 2001); Mega Tech Int'l. Corp. v. Al-Saghayir Establishment, 1999 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6381 (S.D.N.Y. 1999); A. Terzi Prods. V. Theatrical Protective Union, Local No. One, 2 F. Supp. 2d 485, 509, n. 16 (S.D.N.Y. 1998). Moreover, the allegations pertaining to the RICO causes of action are amply pled in the filings of September 30, 2005.

2. The Filing of the More Definite Statement- Additional Allegations of September 30, 2005 Was Proper and Are Part of the Pleadings.

Defendant further contends that the More Definite Statement- Additional Allegations filed on or about September 30, 2005 (docket 1360) were improper, as they purported did not comport with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

Defendant is correct when he claims that he never moved, under 12(e) for a More Definite Statement. However, he clearly claimed that he believed that the Plaintiffs had served the wrong al Alwani (a claim which he is repeating in the instant motion), and Plaintiff had the right, to supplement the pleading to avoid such a misinterpretation. Moreover, CMO 2, para. 13, unequivocally states that

“[p]laintiffs may file more definite statements and/or additional allegations against existing Defendants by filing statements to this effect, which will be treated and accepted as pleadings and deemed amendments to the previously-filed Complaints or Amended Complaints, in lieu of filing an additional Amended Complaint.”

Plaintiffs in their filings, including the one applicable to the Defendant, specifically relied upon such provision in the CMO.

Such provision of the CMO simply provided a means to better manage a case of this complexity and is within the discretion of the Court in the proper implementation of the liberal amendment provisions of Rule 15.. If Plaintiffs were allowed to file a full amended complaint, certainly they could have filed, prior to the answer, supplemental allegations relative to the Defendant.

3. The Submission of the First Consolidated Complaint of September 30, 2005 Was Proper.

CMO 2, Paragraph 13 refers to the filing by September 30, 2005,³² of “an amended complaint that includes all amendments made prior to that date, whether made pursuant to Rule 12(c) or otherwise.” (emphasis added). Prior to September 30, 2005, Plaintiff had filed in the instant case and the companion O’Neill prosecutions, a number of amendments to the complaints, in a variety of forms. In certain instances, including in the O’Neill - Iraq case, the Complaint was amended (e.g., the December, 2004 amendment adding IRAN and certain other parties). In many other instances, in this and the companion cases, Plaintiffs, in accordance with CMO 2, Para. 13, 14, and the Court’s Individual Rules, filed a number of RICO Statements and More Definite Statements- Additional Allegations.

In response to CMO 2, para. 13, on September 30, 2005, Plaintiffs served, electronically, a copy of the First Consolidated Complaint on counsel, and then delivered a hard copy of a First Consolidated Complaint in each of the three (3) O’Neill cases to the Clerk of the District Court, and received a time-stamped copy, in accordance with the District Court’s procedural requirements.³³ Such consolidated complaints included each and every allegation which the ³² The original date was July 31, 2005. Upon a joint application of the Plaintiffs, the Court extended same to September 30, 2005.

Plaintiffs have in each of the respective complaints. As for 'dismissed' Defendants, a copy of the then-existing RICO statement was attached. As for the others, where one had already been filed and served, the More-Definite Statements-Additional Allegations of late September, 2005³⁴ were substantially³⁵ included.

The submission fully complied with the potential requirements of the CMO 2 as to the filing of a Consolidated Complaint. It further fully complied with the requirements of Rule 10, as there were separate statements in numbered paragraphs and Rule 10(c) specifically permits the adoption of reference of items in another part of the pleading (let alone another pleading or other filing), as well as the use of exhibits. The Defendant's claim is devoid of merit.

4. The Motion of the Defendant is Untimely.

Defendant, having been served on July 29, 2005, neither filed a response to the Complaint within twenty (20) days as required in Rule 12, nor move, as mandated under Rule 6(b), for an enlargement of time based upon good cause and lack of willful neglect. Rather, he chose to attack Plaintiff's counsel, file a response in the New York Marine matter, threaten Rule 11 sanctions, and wait until November 4, 2005 to file the instant motion. His motion should be stricken as untimely.

³⁴ As indicated above, in light of the potential uncertainty as to the effectiveness of the previously filed RICO Statements, the allegations of contained within those documents were incorporated into More Definite Statements/Additional Allegations pursuant to CMO 2, para. 13, served and filed. We did NOT include, in the respective First Consolidated Complaints both the RICO Statement and the More Definite Statement/Additional Allegations, so as to avoid burdening the Court and defense counsel with duplicative allegations.

³⁵ The substantive allegations contained within the Exhibits and the those in the More Definite Statements filed at the end of September are identical. Instead of listing all of the victims, in each and every Exhibit (as was done with the RICO Statements and the More Definite Statements), we filed, a Victims List (Exhibit A), and incorporated that into each of the separate Exhibits, by reference. See, e.g., Exhibit F, para. 3.

To the extent that it is determined that the More Definite Statements – Additional Allegations were not properly filed, in any event, as the allegations are contained within the Complaint, they must be considered as part of the pleadings. See, e.g., FCC para. 220 ("Attached hereto as Exhibits and incorporated herein as if set forth at length are the following More Definite Statements/Additional Allegations.....").

The amended Complaint is the legally effective pleading for 12(b)(6) purposes. Harris v. City of New York, 186 F.3d 243, 249 (2d Cir. 1999).

As set forth above, after he declined to have his counsel accept process, or execute a waiver of process, Defendant was personally served in Virginia. His counsel thereupon sought to negotiate a schedule of filings. While he was desirous of extensions for his filings, notwithstanding the fact that he had already been engaged relative to Federal and New York Marine, his counsel was unwilling to agree to either of the requests of the Plaintiff's – i.e., a schedule re: the filing of RICO Statements and a waiver of a service defense. As to the latter, the Plaintiff believed then, and believes now, that there was no colorable argument for a deficiency of service, but withdrew that request. Notably, Defendant never raised that issue in the instant motion. As to the former, as this Court is well aware based upon the plethora of scheduling stipulations signed by the parties and approved by the Court, a provision for scheduling of the filing of RICO Statements was quite common in the instant litigations. Negotiation involves discussion and compromise. Defendant requested significant time to respond so as to avoid a default under the strictures of Ruled 12 and 55; Plaintiff's asked for agreement relative to the timing of the filing of a RICO Statement. Plaintiff was willing to offer an accommodation to the Defendant's request; Defendant preferred to threaten and cajole. Given this unfortunate stalemate, Defendant could have either promptly filed a response, or, pursuant to Rule 6(b) sought, from this Court, an extension based upon good cause and excusable neglect. Instead, he chose to wait. Accordingly, in the absence of such a motion, and particularly in light of the nature of the motion, concentrating his claims relative to the filing of RICO Statements, a More Definite Statement- Additional Pleadings, and the First Consolidated Complaint, rather than on the substance of the pleadings,³⁶ the Defendant's Motion should be stricken.

³⁶ Compare, for example, the instant motion with his Motion to Dismiss filed with regard to the New York Marine action, a week earlier. Docket 1450.

D. THE PLAINTIFFS HAVE ADEQUATELY PLED THEIR CAUSES OF ACTION.

The Defendant allocates a mere two (2) pages in his attempt to dismiss the Complaint for 'substantive grounds.'

Plaintiffs' position as to the applicable legal principals have been adequately addressed in other filings submitted to this Court, including the recent Memorandum of Law in Opposition to the Banco Del Gottardo Motion to Dismiss, and are incorporated herein by reference, as well as the upcoming Plaintiff's Memorandum of Law being filed as part of a consolidated response relative to the Defendant's filing in the New York Marine case.

Plaintiff recognizes this Court's decision as to the Complaint brought by Federal, and respectfully disagrees with the Court's determination of the law, and application to the pleadings.

We suggest that even if such legal determinations and application were correct, the O'Neill complaint contains sufficient allegations, for notice pleading purposes, to link the Defendant to this conspiracy, and be liable for its consequences. It provides adequate notice of the claim of material support for terrorists, particularly based upon the alternative pleadings, by the O'Neill plaintiffs as to the scope of the conspiracy. See, Appendix I, paras. 1-33, 50-61, as to the conspiracy;³⁷ paras. 62-9 as to the damages. Paragraphs 34-49 of Appendix I, clearly highlight how the Plaintiffs, in their pleadings, provide this type of notice, to the Defendant herein.

In the event that this Court determines that the Plaintiffs' pleadings are insufficient, it is respectfully requested that such determination be made without prejudice, with leave to amend.

³⁷ See Exhibit G, para 2 defining the wrongdoers as the Defendants in the 3 O'Neill cases, the 'other cases brought by other plaintiffs' in the instant litigation, 'and others.' See, also, caption listing a number of 'John Does'. It is the intention to include Hamas, which is also a Defendant in certain of the other 9/11 actions, including Ashton.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons set forth herein, and as addressed at argument, which is requested, the Defendants' Motion should be denied, with prejudice. Alternatively, as requested and if required, Plaintiffs' cross motion should be granted, and if required under Rule 12(b)(6), leave to replead should be granted.

The Relationship between Taha Jabir al Alwani and the Conspiracy.

34. The Defendant is referred to in the caption of the FCC Complaint as “TAHA AL ALWANI a/k/a Dr. Taha Jabit al’Alwani”, and is referred to as “Taha Jabir Al Alwani” in the MDS. O'Neill Iraq FCC; O'Neill Plaintiffs’ More Definite Statement /Additional Allegations as to Defendant Taha Al Alwani a/k/a Dr. Taha Jabir Al’Alwani (“MDS”) Para. 22
35. The Defendant is alleged to be one of the Defendants who, along with Defendants Saddam Hussein and a long list of Iraqis, “are natural persons, subjects and/or citizens of Iraq and/or leaders, officials, agents/or employees of Iraq and/or its Intelligence Agency, and/or are the personal representatives of their estates, and, as to the agents, employees, leaders and officials" who participated in the acts and conspiracy described in the pleadings. O'Neill Iraq FCC ¶ 36 (as amended).

36. The Defendant is alleged to be one of the Defendants who, along with Defendants Saddam Hussein and others, "are natural persons(or the personal representatives of their estates), subjects and citizens of Iraq and leaders, officials, agents/or employees of Iraq and/or its Intelligence Agency or other agents or instrumentalities of Iraq and/or are natural persons, subjects and citizens of Iran and leaders, officials, agents/or employees of Iran and/or its Intelligence Agency or other agents or instrumentalities of Iran and/or are natural persons (or the personal representatives of their estates), organizations, banks, and charities located all over the world, who participated in the acts and conspiracy described below, in their individual capacities and while acting in the course and scope of their employment. and/or who conspired with Osama Bin Laden, Al Qaeda, Hezbollah, Iran, and the Taliban to raise, launder, transfer, distribute, and hide funds for Bin Laden and Al Qaeda in order to support and finance their terrorist activities including, but not limited to, the September 11th attacks. Some of the businesses, banks and charities operate legitimately but also maintain a secret dual role as front organizations for Hezbollah and Al Qaeda and actively support its terrorist activities. Some of those organizations are purely a sham front for Hezbollah and Al Qaeda." O'Neill Iraq FCC ¶ 41.
37. "The horrific events of September 11th were the result of a world-wide terror conspiracy against the United States involving Defendants Saddam HusseinTaha Al Alwani ...[and others who] ... have conspired for many years to attack the United States and murder United States' citizens. Defendants supported, conspired, aided and abetted, sponsored, planned and executed the September 11th terror attacks that killed thousands of people and injured many thousands more." O'Neill Iraq FCC ¶ 63.
38. "Defendants Saddam Hussein ... Taha Al Alwani ... [and others] ... caused the extrajudicial killing of John Patrick O'Neill, Sr." O'Neill Iraq FCC ¶ 276.
39. Taha Jabir Al Alwani (Al Alawani) is President of the Graduate School of Islamic and Social Sciences (GSISS) in Leesburg, Virginia. The Graduate School for Social and Islamic Sciences (GSISS), trains Islamic clerics to minister to Muslim soldiers in the U.S. military, however, it is suspected by the U.S. government of raising funds for terrorism. O'Neill Plaintiffs' More Definite Statement /Additional Allegations as to Defendant Taha Al Alwani a/k/a Dr. Taha Jabir Al'Alwani. Exhibit G Para. 22.
40. Al Alwani is also a founding member and president of the International Institute of Islamic Thought ("IIT"). The IIT is a self-described "Islamic think tank" started by Sami Al-Arian, who was arrested by the U.S. government and is awaiting trial on charges that he was a key figure in the terrorist group Palestinian Islamic Jihad. MDS Para. 23.
41. Taha Jabir Alawani was publicly identified in an affidavit by U.S. Customs special agent David Kane ("Kane") as a director of "Safa Group companies including International Institute of Islamic Thought (IIT), FIQH council of North America, Graduate School of Islamic & Social Sciences, and Heritage Education Trust." In the affidavit, Kane wrote that "there is probable cause to believe that Alawani, along with others, conspired to commit various offenses, including the providing of material support or resources to foreign terrorist organizations in violation of 18 U.S.C. Para 2339B." MDS para. 24.

42. The Articles of Incorporation for the IIIT, dated October 8, 1980, which were included with the IIIT Application for Recognition of Exemption from Federal Income Tax (Form 1023), dated June 3, 1982, identify other individuals who were directors of WAMY, a co-Defendant, at that time. These include Dr. Taha Jaber, whom I (Kane) believe to be the same as Taha Jaber Al- Alwani, Dr. Abdul Hamid Abu Sulayman, and Dr. Jamal Barzinji." On this document Al- Alwani, Barzinji and Abu Sulayman listed their address as World Assembly of Muslim Youth, P.O. Box 5472, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. MDS para. 25.
43. According to a second affidavit filed by Kane in the US District Court in Eastern Virginia, Al-Awani's home was listed as a location to be searched: "The Residence of Al-Alwani at 1105 Safa Street, Herndon, Virginia 1105 Safa Street in Herndon is the residence of Taha Jaber Al-Alwani, an officer and/or director of Safa Group companies including International Institute of Islamic Thought ("IIIT"), FIQH Council of North America ("FIQH"), Graduate School of Islamic & Social Sciences ("GSISS") (formerly known as the School of Islamic and Social Sciences ("SISS")) and Heritage Education Trust." MDS para. 26.
44. Kane further stated: "Various documents and videotapes obtained in Tampa searches show that Al Alwani, attended and spoke at Islamic Concern Project ("ICP") conferences with Al- Arian, Shallah, Sheik Odeh (spiritual leader and co-founder of Palestinian Islamic jihad ("PIJ")) and Sheik Rahman (the "Blind Sheik" convicted of conspiracy to blow up New York tunnels and the United Nations in New York in October 1995). Inasmuch as ICP conferences were, in essence, PIJ conferences, I know that Al-Alwani has long been a supporter of PIJ." MDS para. 27.
45. Additionally, Kane said, "In October 1999, a confidential asset of the FBI, who has provided reliable information in the past, furnished the Washington Field Office of the FBI a copy of a fatwa 36 (declaration) signed by Al-Alwani at some point between December 1988 and November 1989, proclaiming the truth by the powers invested in us by Allah, that Jihad is the only way to liberate Palestine; that no person or authority may settle the Jews on the land of Palestine or cede to them any part thereof, or recognize any right therein for them." MDS para. 28.
46. Plaintiffs herein incorporate by reference throughout this document the factual averments and arguments which are contained within its More Definite Statement Applicable to WAMY, relating to Estate of John P. O'Neill, et al. v. Al Baraka, et al., 04-CV-1923 (RCC).
47. Public documents show that the SAAR network was the primary backer of the PIJ front groups in the United States, World and Islam Studies Enterprise ("WISE") and Islamic Concern Project ("ICP"). MDS para. 29.

48. In fact, previously released correspondence and bank checks reveal that SAAR affiliates IIIT and Safa Trust funneled tens of thousands of dollars to the PIJ fronts. Al Alwani, in his capacity as President of the International Institute of Islamic Thought and an officer of the Heritage Education Trust and Safa Trust, has committed multiple acts of conspiracy to commit murder and arson, money laundering, tax fraud, Travel Act violations, filing a false tax return, and impeding and impairing the collecting of federal taxes, all in furtherance of the Enterprise's common goals and ultimate plan of launching an attack on America. MDS para. 30.
49. As the foregoing demonstrates, Al Alwani thereby knowingly has, for a period of many years, provided critical financial and logistical support to al Qaida, and/or Radical Muslim Terrorism, and/or the International Islamic Front for the Jihad Against Jews and Crusaders, to support the terrorist organization's global jihad. The September 11th Attack was a direct, intended and foreseeable product of Al Alwani's participation in the jihadist campaign for al Qaida, and/or Radical Muslim Terrorism, and/or the International Islamic Front for the Jihad Against Jews and Crusaders. MDS para. 31.

O'Neill Iraq FCC, Exhibit G, ¶ 5(a); Continental Casualty ¶ 611.

- 54. Each of Defendants' racketeering activities was taken for the purpose of furthering Defendants' common scheme to commit acts of terrorism against the United States, its nationals and its allies. Each racketeering act had similar purposes, involving the same or similar participants and methods of commission and had similar results. Continental Casualty ¶ 612. The pattern of racketeering is more fully set forth in O'Neill Iraq FCC, Exhibit G, ¶ 5(b), (f), and (g)
- 55. As a direct and proximate result of the foregoing, plaintiffs have been damaged in their business and property in an amount to be determined at trial but believed to be in excess of $212,500,000 and such damages are trebled pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 1964. Continental Casualty ¶ 613.
